Mrs. Craft of Washington D. C. received her "Liberty Bond" at 10:30 this morning. She is the first client I have ever had who was not satisfied with my services. She has been gambling all these 6 weeks and has lost about $700 in Reno dives. Some of the lowbrows have told her that $150 is a terrible fee to pay and that she could get a complete divorce for $65. A few evenings back she had a few drinks and proceeded to tell the whole crowd at the Bank Club that her attorney gyped her. Someone said who is your atty. She yelled out, Clel Georgetta. A friend of mine told me about it. This A.M. she crabbed about the fee and I told her I should turn around and sue her for slander. This A.M. the Sheriff's office called and asked me to come down to see a man who wants a lawyer. Ed Miller of Lodi Cal. was arrested for drunken driving. A wire from Lodi says hold him we have a felony warrant. I can do nothing for him until we see what the charges are. At noon Charley Hatten picked me up and took me to his new home. He has a blonde wife, <sup>who seems to be a very nice</sup> little lady, I like Charles very much. By mistake I walked off with a key and this evening returned it. We had a few drinks. Mrs. Hatten believes she knows of 2 divorce cases she might get for me. Came to the office at 9:30 and worked until 12:00.
