

TUESDAY, NOV. 13, 1934

Appeared for Souter in the Dunton case - Nichols was on the other side - a nice fellow but a rather poor lawyer.

This afternoon I ran into W. B. Aimes on the street, he took me over to what used to be the Anderson Hotel - now called the Aimes Hotel and showed me around - It has been re-modeled and re furnished - very nice place now. They plan on building an extension out to 2nd street and Aimes says he is going to have a very large elegant office on the 2nd floor in front and again asked me to come and join him. He desires to have 5 or 6 lawyers form a large firm. If I had no ties, I believe I would risk a try at it - but that is out of the question - my tie with Clyde Souter is too good to sacrifice - I admire the Judge greatly and I am going to stay by him as long as he will have me! Came to the office this evening and read law until 12:00. With a yawn and stretch I shall now turn out the lights and go home.